[redacted] Talked with Robert E. Lee, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations, Department of State, concerning the Wayne Morse letter to the Secretary of State with copy to CIA asking for information on [redacted]

[redacted] I told Lee we were going to acknowledge the letter indicating the information requested was not within the responsibility of the Agency and wanted to be sure this was in gear with their response. Lee indicated they have not yet prepared a response but he was sure this would be done. Therefore, it was left I would furnish him with a copy of our letter to the Senator. Lee also indicated they might try to handle the matter orally with the Senator.

[redacted] added that they are interested in this correspondence and would like to make some suggestions to the Congressman for his use in subsequent letters. We propose to have [redacted] or one of his staff accompany us when we discuss this further with Quie. After talking with Quie I advised [redacted] that he could keep the envelope and that the Congressman's reply was sent in a regular franked congressional envelope.
